Southern New England Conference of the Seventh-day Adventist Privacy Policy

This Privacy Statement (“Statement”) describes what and how the Southern New England Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. (“SNEConf”, “we”, “our”, and “us”) gathers and how we may use personal information. This Statement applies to: (i) users of the website sneconline.org, SNECyouth.com OR users of any subdomain of these domains (the “Sites”); (ii) users of SNEConf services and related offerings that reference or link to this privacy statement (the “Service(s)”; and (iii) information gathered from visitors to websites using the Services. (i), (ii) and (iii) individually and collectively are referred to as “User(s)” or “you”. It also describes your choices regarding use, access and correction of your personal information.

Personal Data

SNEConf does not sell Users’ personal information.

We place a high priority on the security of your personal information. We adhere to recognized standards to ensure the protection of the information you submit, both during transmission and after it has been received. To safeguard your data, we employ Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) technology, which is considered the industry standard for encrypting personal information, including your name, address, and credit card information. Should you have any inquiries regarding the security of your personal information, please do not hesitate to contact us at info@sneconline.org.

EU – U.S. Privacy Shield and Swiss – U.S. Privacy Shield Participation

SNEConf is committed to complying with the EU-U.S. Privacy Shield Framework and the Swiss-U.S. Privacy Shield Framework. The organization transfers personal data collected from individuals in European Economic Area (EEA) member countries and Switzerland to the United States. SNEConf is dedicated to upholding all principles of the Privacy Shield Framework for personal data received from these regions. For more information about the Privacy Shield Framework, please refer to the U.S. Department of Commerce’s Privacy Shield List.

With respect to personal data received or transferred pursuant to the Privacy Shield Framework, SNEConf is subject to the regulatory enforcement powers of the U.S. Federal Trade Commission. In certain situations, we may be required to disclose personal data in response to lawful requests by public authorities, including to meet national security or law enforcement requirements.

Inquiries and Complaints Process for Privacy Shield Data and Data Processed in the European Economic Area

If you reside in an EEA member state or Switzerland, and your personal data are transferred to the U.S. pursuant to the Privacy Shield: In compliance with the Privacy Shield Principles, SNEConf commits to resolve complaints about our collection or use of Users' personal information. Please direct questions or complaints regarding our Statement to: info@sneconline.org.

We will communicate with you in reply. If you have a privacy or data use concern that we have not addressed satisfactorily, you may contact our U.S.-based third-party dispute resolution provider (free of charge) at <https://feedback-form.truste.com/watchdog/request>. Under certain conditions, more fully described on the Privacy Shield website, you may invoke binding arbitration when other dispute resolution procedures have been exhausted.

Under the Privacy Shield Framework, we are responsible for processing the personal data we receive and subsequently transferring it to a third party acting as an agent on our behalf. SNEConf complies with the Privacy Shield Principles for all onward transfers of personal data from the EEA and Switzerland, including the onward transfer liability provisions.

If you reside in an EEA member state or Switzerland, and we process your personal data in an EEA member state or Switzerland: If you have a question or complaint regarding the processing of your personal data, you may, in the first instance, contact the Company's Privacy Office at info@sneconline.org. If unsatisfied, you have the right to lodge a complaint with an EEA Data Protection Authority.

Where we are processing data received from or collected on behalf of our Clients: SNEConf collects information under the direction of and receives information from, its clients and has no direct relationship with the individuals whose personal data it processes under these circumstances. If you are a customer of one of our clients and would like to make an inquiry or complaint, please contact the client you are interacting with directly.

Information Collection and Use

We only collect, use, share, store, or otherwise process your personal information when we have an appropriate basis. For example, we may process your personal information as necessary to provide services that are subject to terms you have accepted, such as our end user license agreements or service terms and conditions. We may process your personal information when necessary to comply with legal obligations or for purposes of pursuing legitimate interests (such as providing products and services, preventing fraud, enforcing legal claims, and security purposes), if doing so is consistent with your rights and appropriate to the context, such as providing Services, the Site, performing internal analytics, and conducting reasonable monitoring of your use of our Site or Services to prevent misuse of our Site or Services and fraud. Additionally, we may, in certain cases, ask you for your consent for certain processing of your personal information.

We collect personal information through the Site and websites using the Services, such as name, address, email address, phone number, ip address, username, password, billing and other information a User provides. We also collect and receive information as described in the section on

We may use this information to:

- operate, maintain, and improve the Site and Services.
- respond to comments and questions and provide customer service.
- send information including confirmations, invoices, technical notices, updates, security alerts, and support and administrative messages.
- link or combine user information with other personal information.
- communicate about promotions, events, and other news about services offered by us or selected partners (you may always opt out).
- protect, investigate, and deter against fraudulent, unauthorized, or illegal activity.

We also use information as described in the section on Tracking Technologies, below.

We will only use this information for the purposes for which we collected or received it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If we need to use your personal data for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

Sharing of Personal Information

We will only share personal information:

- for legal, protection, and safety purposes. This includes: (i) as required by law, such as complying with a subpoena or similar legal process, investigating fraud, or responding to a government request (ii) protecting the rights and property of SNEConf, our clients, Users, and others, including enforcing our agreements, policies, and SNECP; (iii) in an emergency, including for the safety of our employees, Users, or any person. If SNEConf is involved in a merger, acquisition, or sale of all or a portion of its assets, you will be notified via email and/or a prominent notice on our website, of any change in ownership, uses of your personal information, and choices you may have regarding your personal information.
- with those who need it to do work for us, such as third-party companies that process payments. We do not store full credit card numbers or personal account numbers. These companies are authorized to use your personal information only as necessary to provide us with consent for these services.

Anonymous Aggregated Data

SNEConf may aggregate and anonymize data from individual SNEConf Services and utilize it to further secure other SNEConf services and clients. We may use this anonymous data to build further security into each Service we deploy for our users. None of the data identifies any individual. For example, we monitor DDoS attacks at the network edge and utilize that data to protect other SNEConf clients or Users from DDoS attacks. We may assemble this data and provide it to an external party in an anonymized format, maintaining that our Users' and their visitors' personal information will never be attached to or included in such data. We utilize this log data to detect and block new threats on the Internet.

Tracking Technologies

SNEConf and its partners use cookies or similar technologies to analyze trends, administer the website, track users' movements around the website, provide fraud prevention and security services to our Clients, and gather demographic information about our user base as a whole. Users can typically remove and reject cookies from our Site using its browser settings. Many browsers are set to accept cookies, and settings are changed. If you remove or reject the cookies, it could adversely affect how our Site and Services work.

"Cookies" do not tell us a user's name, email address, or password. When a User visits the Site, we may use the computer's cookies to provide a more personal and interactive experience. To improve and secure the Services we provide to Users, we may place cookies on the websites of Users using the Services. One example is continually improving the identification of potential security threats to a user's website. We do not store unobscured personal or private information in a cookie.

Log Files

As is true of most websites, we gather certain information automatically and store it in log files. This information may include internet protocol (IP) addresses, computer operating system type, browser type, browser language, the website a User visited before browsing to our Site, pages viewed, how long a User spent on a page, access times, and information about the use of and actions on our Site to analyze trends in the aggregate and administer the Site.

Behavioral Targeting

We partner with a third party to display advertising on our website or to manage our advertising on other sites. Our third-party partners may use cookies or similar technologies in order to provide advertising based upon user browsing activities and interests.

Information Choices and Access

If you reside in an EEA member state or Switzerland, and your personal data are transferred to the U.S. pursuant to the Privacy Shield, upon request, SNEConf will provide you with information about whether we hold any of your personal information. Under certain circumstances, you may access, correct, or request deletion of your personal information by logging into your account or contacting us at info@sneconline.org. We will respond to your request within a reasonable timeframe.

If you reside in an EEA member state or Switzerland, and we process your personal data in an EEA member state or Switzerland: Under certain circumstances, you may have the right to request access to, correction of, erasure of, or the transfer of your personal information, as well as the right to object to or restrict the processing of your personal data by contacting us at info@sneconline.org. Where we are processing your personal data pursuant to your consent, you may revoke your consent by contacting us at info@sneconline.org. Where we are processing data received from or collected on behalf of our Clients: SNEConf collects and receives information under the direction of its clients and has no direct relationship with the individuals whose personal data it processes under these circumstances. If you are a customer of one of our clients and would no longer like to be contacted by one of our clients that use our service, please contact the client that you interact with directly. We may transfer personal information to companies that help us provide our service. Transfers to subsequent third parties are covered by the service agreements with our clients. We acknowledge that individuals may have the right to access their own personal information. SNEConf has no direct relationship with the individuals whose personal information it processes on behalf of its clients. An individual who seeks to exercise the rights described above for data that have been transferred to the U.S. pursuant to the Privacy Shield or that are being processed in an EEA member state or Switzerland should submit their query to the SNEConf client (the data controller). If requested to remove data, we will attempt to respond within 30 days. We retain personal information we process on behalf of our clients for as long as needed to provide services to our clients, as necessary to comply with our legal obligations, resolve disputes, and enforce our agreements.

Retention

We will retain your information for as long as your account is active or as needed to provide you services. We will retain and use your information as necessary to comply with our legal obligations, resolve disputes, and enforce our agreements.

You may select to have all your information deleted from this site by going to the Privacy Tools Page. If you decide to remove your approval for SNEConf to utilize your information, some sections of this website may no longer function as expected.

Links to 3rd Party Websites

Our website includes links to other websites whose privacy practices may differ from those of SNEConf. If you submit personal information to any of those websites, your information is governed by their privacy statements. We encourage you to carefully read the privacy statement of any website you visit.

Contact Information

For comments or questions about this Statement please use our live chat system or submit a ticket to our support team through the SNEConf portal. Users may also contact us at info@sneconline.org.
